

Zandvlakte

Zandvlakte Private Nature Reserve Fact Sheet Baviaanskloof Valley, Willowmore District, Eastern Cape

The jewel of South Africa's wilderness areas, the Baviaanskloof Conservancy, borders the historical property Zandvlakte in the center of the Baviaanskloof Valley. The area is internationally well known for its biodiversity. Relics of ancient cultures are still hidden in these vast mountain ranges.

ABOUT US

Zandvlakte is an operational farm offering accommodation in old restored buildings on the farm, dating from 1811 to the late 1900's. Zandvlakte is situated in the center of the Baviaanskloof. The lifestyle is informal, relaxed, barefoot and quiet. There is a swimming pool at the homestead and guests can enjoy rural late nights around a fire, walking, bird watching, reading and sleeping in the wild. Zandvlakte is known for serenity at its wildest!

It is not a lodge, guesthouse, public hotel or public resort - it is a private family farm offering informal hospitality in the wilderness.

Dinner, bed and breakfast is available by prior arrangement only.

Reservations are accepted by emails, as well as telephone.

Right of admission is strictly reserved by the owners and only a very limited number of people are allowed onto the property per day to ensure a private experience in the vast open spaces offered on the property.

ROOMS

The private family farm offers 18 rooms, sleeping up to 36 people; all built in a unique style. It includes family units sleeping up to six people and fully equipped self-catering units.

Two of the units do not have electricity, only candles and gas, out in the serene bushveld.

You will still find the original ceilings and yellowwood floors at the farmsteads, dating back to the early 1900s.
